

Welcome to DEStech Publications, Inc. Download Site for your contribution to Parallel Computational Fluid Dynamics 2009.

Follow the instructions below in order to download your article for submission to this conference Proceedings. If you have any questions regarding the download process please contact us at info@destechpub.com or call toll-free 1-866-401-4DES, thank you.

PROJECT NAME: ParCFD 2009

PROJECT KEY: Receive from project Editor.

After you click on to the provided link you will then want to first see the “Project” box and click on the pull down arrow to choose the intended Project Name.

- After you have selected the Project Name you next want to “Create Account”.

You will then see a box containing thirteen (13) information fields. Again, make certain you choose the Project Name you will be submitting a paper to.

- You must first enter your “Project Key” password in order to be allowed access to this download area. (Your conference Editor should have provided you with the “Project Key” password.) If you have not received your Project Key password please contact the Editor for this Proceedings project.
- When entering “Password” at the bottom you may create your own personal Password for your access (must be a minimum of five (5) characters—alpha numeric only).
- After you have filled out all required information fields you may click “Create Account” at the bottom. You will then receive a statement thanking you for creating an account and notification of an email to be sent to you for log in and further instructions.
- After you receive further instructions you may now “Log in” and enter your Email and Password.

Welcome to ProjectBuilder! You may then click “New Submission” in the upper left hand corner and receive the area where you will fill in the appropriate information.

- Step 1—New Submission-Basic Information: When you want to download your file click “Browse”; whereas you will be taken to your files/Documents
- then you may click on the file you need to download;
- Click “Open” and your file will transfer to the Download site. NOTE: It is advisable to include one or several author’s last names as the file name e.g. “Miller, Wang, Thomas et al.” Giving the file the same name as the conference is not recommended since multiple files could be listed with the same file name and thus would be confusing when gathering all downloaded files.
- Click “Next” to continue. NOTE: Submit your article in either MS Word or as a PDF. If you create your paper in a program other than MS Word please supply the electronic file as a PDF and please remember to embed all fonts when creating your PDF.

Step 2—Copyright Agreement: If you have not completed your Copyright Release Form please do so and either send to the Editor or to DEStech Publications, Inc.

- Upon acceptance of the Copyright Agreement outlined in your Copyright Release Form you may check the box and click “Next” to proceed.

Step 3—New Submission-Review: You may submit your article and abstract by clicking “Submit” or you may click “back” to make any necessary changes.

- After you submit your article you may still make changes by clicking “Modify” in the next screen.

You have now submitted your article and the Editor/administrator can now accept or reject this article—you will receive notification of acceptance or non-acceptance. Once the Editor/administrator reviews and/or approves your article you may no longer access your article for any revisions.
